

Dear Room 6 Families,

The first month back to school has gone by so fast! Children are slowly settling into the classroom environment and enjoying the work. We can feel the weather changing and the days getting shorter. As usual, October brings a lot of excitement for our children. They are already talking about Halloween and about dressing up for the big day!

This month we will incorporate pumpkins into our lessons. For botany we will dissect a pumpkin to learn about the different parts of this fruit. I will also introduce the parts of a body and the human skeleton. Children will learn about the bones in their body and the importance of eating healthy to help them grow.

Last month I introduced the land and water globe. This month I will introduce the seven continents of the world. As the season changes, I will teach them about the earth's rotation and its impact on the weather.

The musician for this month is Michael Jackson. We will listen to some of his popular songs and enjoy his music. This month's art project will incorporate the theme of Autumn. The children will get to see different varieties of pumpkins and we will paint pumpkins and autumn leaves. As always, I will continue to encourage free painting as it is always available on the art shelf.

Academic lessons will continue as some children will be introduced to more challenging work in math, language, geography, and science. The younger children will be introduced to pre-language, primary numbers, sensorial, and more practical life skills.

As a reminder, please make sure to write your child's name on their belongings. Thank you for all your support, please feel free to communicate with me if you have any questions. You can email me at enoka@fvmontessori.com or call the school and leave me a message.

Thank you,

Mrs. Enoka
